

DR. M. WHITE, SUPERINTENDENT OF MISSIONS FOR PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, PROVINCE OF ALBERTA WAS A VISITOR IN MACLEOD AND DISTRICT

Dr. M. White, of Calgary, superintendent of missions for the Presbyterian church in the province of Alberta, was a week end visitor in Macleod and district. On Sunday he paid an official visit to the mission fields of Sandhill and McBride Lake and dispensed the Communion to large congregations at both points. Mr. McMillan of Knox college, Toronto, who has been conducting the services during the summer months, has been most successful in his ministrations. Being a young man of outstanding ability as a speaker, large congregations have attended the services every Sunday.

Mr. McMillan will conclude his services about the middle of September, and will resume his studies at Knox Presbyterian College for his final year in Divinity.

During the past four Sundays, in the absence of the Rev. Alex Ferguson on holiday, Mr. McMillan has conducted the evening service in St. Andrew's Church, and his preaching has been very much enjoyed by the congregation.

HIS TRIAL

One of John D. Rockefeller's favorite stories is about an old man arraigned in court on a charge of vagrancy, who gave his name as John D. Rockefeller. Scratching his grizzled poll in perplexity at the outburst of laughter, the old man exclaimed:

"Yassah, dat's mah real name, an' it's been a trial to me all mah life, You Honah."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

FORMER MACLEOD MINISTER OFFICIATES AT MOUNTAIN WEDDING

While the sun blazed its blessing and tumbling glacier streams chattered a joyous song service, Canada's highest wedding has just been celebrated in the Fraser Valley. Snowy mountain peaks stood guard. Dark-shadowed canyons were aisles in this impromptu church, and a glowing carpet of Alpine flowers had been laid by nature.

This open-air church was Paradise Valley on Liumchin Peak, near Chilliwack. More than a mile below the Fraser wandered to the sea. Far to the south snowy Mount Baker looked on impassively. Cultus Lake was just beneath them.

When bride and groom took their places at their sky-line altar, the feet above sea level, a romance inaugurated in a night of fog and mist the year before not many yards away from this very spot was brought to a climax.

The groom on this morning of July 8 was Mr. Carl Wilson, popular young schoolteacher of Chilliwack, the Fraser Valley. The bride was Miss Mildred Behner of Seattle. The entire wedding party on horse back had climbed Mount Liumchin from Cultus Lake the day previous, and five minutes before the ceremony, three parties could have been seen trotting from the camp at the western end of Paradise Valley.

One group was centred on the pastor, Rev. A. C. Wishart, stalwart minister of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Chilliwack. Soon he was joined by the groom and groomsmen, in full riding regalia. The best man was Mr. George Martin, a well-known mountain guide. Parties rode on horses to Altar

And as they dismounted and took their places, the bride, accompanied by her bridesmaid, Miss Lillian Smart of Seattle, rode into view. The bride lent a splash of color to the scene in her brilliant red riding coat over a white silk shirt while white breeches, black riding boots, chic riding gloves and a large cream Stetson hat completed her costume.

As the bridal party took its stand in front of the altar in this most immense of cathedrals, there was a sudden hush, while a feeling of reverence held sudden sway. At the close of the marriage ritual, Mr. George Martin mounted his horse and, riding to a point overlooking the assembled party, sang, "I Love You Truly." Finally, following numerous cameras brought to a close one of the most picturesque wedding ceremonies ever witnessed in the great open spaces of B. C.'s vast mountain strongholds.

The Rev. A. C. Wishart was for over three years minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Macleod and left about two years ago when he was called to Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Chilliwack, B. C.

BABY PAGEANT ONE OF THE BIG FEATURES IN COLLEGE SHOW

The baby pageant is one of the novel features in the college show "Aunt Lucia." About one hundred children between the ages of five to eight have been chosen to take part in the big Baby Pageant next Wednesday and Thursday night. The curtain raiser is led by Mrs. F. J. Cutler a Special Dramatic Reader and the children are found to be one of the big attractions of the show.

The children are dressed in their night clothes and will perform for the benefit of the crowd who will be at the show on Wednesday and Thursday. Throughout the country where the play has been staged the Baby Pageant has been one of the main features. We also want to announce that the babies are to rehearse Tuesday afternoon at 4.00 p. m. at the Empress Theatre. You will want to see "Aunt Lucia" for the sake of seeing the Baby Pageant if for no other reason.

NINTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT—ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, EDMONTON, ALTA., AUG., 23, 1930

Wheat cutting is well advanced in the southern part of the Province, general in the central area and has commenced in the northern districts including Peace River.

In the south-eastern area the quality of grain is high but the yield is uniformly light. Farther west crops on summer-fallow are giving returns of from thirty to thirty-five bushels per acre. On all spring prepared land the yields will not be large. Irrigated areas report all crops slightly above average.

In the central eastern part of the Province all grains have suffered severely from wind and drought. Crops are short and in many instances ripening is uneven. Late rains have caused excellent growth on fields reseeded to oats and barley and there will be a fair supply of feed. There have been several rather severe hail storms in this area which have caused heavy losses.

In the western and northern areas prospects are satisfactory in quality and yield. The recent dry period in the Peace River district has slightly reduced the yield of oats and barley. Wheat has not suffered.

Rains have been general over most of the Province in the past few days and pastures are much improved. Sugar beets and potatoes are making excellent progress.

60 CTS. BUSHEL IS INITIAL WHEAT PRICE

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—Days of anxious waiting are over and today the 143,000 western farmers, members of 17 prairie wheat pools, know what the initial payment is to be on the 1930 crop.

It will be the lowest in the seven year history of the pools—60 cents a bushel on wheat; oats, No. 2 C.W., 30 cents; Barley, No. 3 C.W., 25 cents; Bye, No. 2 C.W., 35 cents; and Flax, No. 1 N.W.C., $1.25.

The 60-cent payment on wheat will be made on the basis of No. 1 Northern grade at Fort William. Along with the official announcement from A. J. McPhail, chairman of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers' Limited, the central selling agency of the pool, from Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, last night came a plea to the creditors of the western agriculturists to be lenient. The same plea was made in Regina last week at a conference of wheat growers, business men and members of the Saskatchewan government under the leadership of Premier J. T. M. Anderson.

Both Mr. McPhail and Mr. Bracken drew attention to the serious situation facing the prairie farmers, who, for the second year in succession, in face of depressed world values, are now harvesting a crop below the average in yield.

"The government of Manitoba," said Premier Bracken, "believes that in the present emergency, industrial and financial interests should refrain from unduly pressing collections from farmer debtors. It is in the interests of all Canada that our farmers should not be embarrassed by too energetic attempts by competing creditors to collect larger payments than farmers are able to pay." Sale of the prairie crops "under pressure" would depress values, with serious consequences to the agricultural and business interests of the Dominion, he said.

Mr. McPhail declared: "As the welfare of our prairie provinces is almost entirely dependent on the solvency of our agricultural industry, we hope and feel confident that all interests concerned in the welfare of Western Canada will co-operate in minimizing the difficulties our farmers are facing at the present time."

The chairman of the central selling agency stated that a further payment which would involve an increase in the initial payment "will be made at as early a date as market and financial conditions will permit."

Since the formation of the wheat pools in the west, with the exception of one year's the initial payment has always been $1.00 a bushel. In 1928 the record crop year, when grain values were depressed, the initial payment was 85 cents a bushel.

A MATTER OF SPELLING

Officer (addressing sergeant): "There is a pile of rubbish over in Kosciuszko Street that ought to be hauled off."

Sergeant: "Very well, make your report."

Officer sits at his desk and nibbles the end of his pen for several minutes, then snatches his cap and makes a break for the door.

Sergeant (sharply): "Where are you going?"

Officer (cheesily): "I'm going to drag that rubbish over into Maple Avenue."

Prominent Residents Play Leads in "Aunt Lucia"

Frank Wintermute, well known in local dramatic circles is going to play the part of "Aunt Lucia" in the big amateur play to be staged next week at the Empress Theatre on September 3rd and 4th, for the benefit of the United Church Ladies Aid. This play is a masquerade character in which Wintermute plays the part of Jerry Watson, a college boy, who dressed in an old ladies outfit for the entertainment of his Fraternity brothers is mistaken for Lucia Wakefield, a wealthy old maid. He has several old men such as the Butcher and Egg man played by Frank Walsh, postmaster; the widower Mr. Collins portrayed by Mr. J. W. McDonald, ex-Mayor and lawyer and Professor Gaddis. Rev. Knight of the United Church very ably takes the part of the Professor. This personation is well worth seeing. No one can afford to miss them.

Other important characters include George Lewis as George; Alex Laing as Dick, the two college boys who support Wintermute as the false "Aunt Lucia."

In addition to these characters, Mrs. M. Rutledge and Mrs. K. MacGregor and Hope Dillingham are playing the part of the college girls Molly, Betsy and Ethelyn. Also every one knows how well Mrs. James Young can act and she is playing the part of the old maid college Dean who is in love with the Professor. In addition to these characters, Mrs. Frank Neville is playing the part of the college President's wife and E. Forster Brown, city clerk is playing the part of the college Professor.

HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION—MEASLES

Measles is one of the most common and dangerous diseases of childhood. It is difficult to understand why so many parents look upon measles as a trivial disease, as one which is not to be compared with diphtheria or scarlet fever. It is thought so little of that some parents, regarding it as something inevitable that must occur sooner or later, do not hesitate to expose their child so that he may have the disease and get it over with.

Measles never dies out altogether; there are always a few cases, and usually, every two years, there is a real epidemic. Measles causes more deaths than scarlet fever, and in epidemic years, its death rate is often greater than that of diphtheria.

One reason which may account for the feeling that measles is not particularly serious is that the deaths of a large number of children after an attack of measles are shown to have been directly caused by broncho-pneumonia.

Parents think their child was a victim of pneumonia. This is true of course, but the pneumonia would not have occurred had it not been for the measles. The real cause of the child's death is measles, and this should be clearly understood.

In the years which see a measles epidemic, there is also noted a considerable increase in the number of deaths of children under five years of age from pneumonia.

These facts should be sufficient to persuade parents that measles is a serious disease and that they should take every reasonable precaution to protect their children from its serious and frequently fatal results.

Measles is infectious from the time the first symptom shows itself. It starts with a cold and the rash does not appear for some days. During the days before the appearance of the rash, the disease is spread by the secretions from the mouth and nose. This is one of the reasons for keeping children who suffer from colds away from other children. Colds are bad enough in themselves, but what not appear to be a cold may often be a still more serious condition.

The serious results of measles would be prevented in many cases if proper care were given. Bed is the place for a child who is developing measles and there he must stay until he has recovered, no matter how mild the attack may appear to be.

Fortunately we have learned something about preventing measles in those exposed to it. Blood serum from a convalescent measles case can be used by the physician to prevent an attack or to lessen its severity if it occurs.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

WEDDING BELLS LATHAM—WATSON

First Presbyterian church, Edmonton, beautifully decorated for the occasion with gladioli, sweet peas, dahlias and ferns, was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday evening, when Rev. D. G. McQueen, D.D., solemnized the marriage of Helen Allan, daughter of Mrs. A. Watson of Edmonton, and Mr. Charles Latham, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Latham of Calgary.

Mr. Holden Rushworth played the wedding march, and the choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." Sweet peas of palest pink and white prettily tied with white satin streamers, marked the guest list, and the ushers were Mr. William and Mr. John Watson, brothers of the bride.

Mr. Stanley Andrews of Calgary was the best man. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alexander Watson of Calgary, wore a lovely princess gown of heavy ivory satin. The sleeves were long and closely fitting and the skirt fell in graceful ripples which brushed the heels of her dainty white satin slippers. Her filmy tulle veil, especially beautiful for the simplicity of its arrangement, was held in place about her head with insets of old Venetian lace. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses showered with lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Margaret Brock was bridesmaid. Her gown was of gold lace with a deep hemline of gold net, its only adornment being a smart sash of gold and green spot taffeta. Her belt and hair were of green moiré and gold tissue and her bouquet was an exquisite nosegay of sweet peas in varying shades of pink and rose.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, who received with the bride and bridesmaid, wearing black tulle and lace and corsage of crimson roses.

The bride and bridesmaid received in an alcove banked in ferns, tall palms and gladioli. The rooms were lovely with quantities of summer flowers. Pale pink sweet peas in bud and the bride's satin streamers were used as decoration on the bride's table.

Those assisting at supper were Mrs. A. Ross MacPherson, Miss Norma Cuthbertson, Miss Margaret Martin, Miss Jean McCallum and Miss Helen Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Latham are spending their honeymoon at Vancouver and Qualicum Beach and later will take up their residence in Calgary. Mrs. Latham traveled in a three-piece costume of Shantung and hat of Gainsborough linen straw. Her purse and shoes were also of Shantung and she wore a handsome marten necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a traveling coat of Kashia colored in broadtail. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson of Calgary; Mr. R. H. Latham of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Deane of Glenora, Mrs. F. L. Gernet of Calgary, and Mr. Stanley Andrews of Calgary—Calgary Herald.

The above wedding report will be interesting to a great many Macleod people, where the Watson family were so well known for many years.

The family came from Scotland to Macleod over 20 years ago.

CHORUS GIRLS ADD COLOR AND SPICE TO "AUNT LUCIA"

About 25 local girls, the best of the community's young ladies, are taking part in the chorus of the great play "Aunt Lucia." These girls are to be specially constituted for these choruses and will perform some very clever steps and genuinely interesting songs. The sailor chorus of "Breezin' Along with the Breeze," and the milk maid chorus of "Out in the New Mown Hay" and the famous collegiate chorus to the tune of "Collegiate," make up the array of chorus songs. Following are the girls who have been chosen for these choruses: Lucille West, Mina Ringland, Mary McLeod, Dorothy Hilliard, Ella Barr, Jean Wyld, Florence Lantiga, Lucille Rossing, Dorothy Pincher, Ellene Freed, Dorothy Young, Roberta Perry, Jane Bailey, Anna Fanset, Edna Russell, Jean Hilliard, Ruby Nash, Margaret Hillier, Ruth Ringland, Gladys Gilroy, Wilma Freed, Dorothy Crowson and Viola Wintermute.

Miss Gwen Hilliard and Mr. Jeffery Young sing the solo parts in "Out in the New Mown Hay" and the "Flash Light Chorus."

CLOVER SEED PROSPECTS

The Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture estimates that the production of alfalfa seed for 1930 will be better in quality both with respect to colour and purity than last year's crop. Ontario production is not expected to exceed one-third of the 1929 crop when 70,000 bushels were harvested. The alfalfa seed market is not overly promising at the present time. Better prospects are reported for red clover seed with practically no carryover from last year and 1930 acreage about 50 per cent, below normal. An increased acreage of alfalfa being saved for seed is reported.

ago, and resided here till about 5 years ago when they moved to Edmonton. Mr. Watson was an employee of the C. P. R. for many years and their eldest boy paid the supreme sacrifice in the Great War. "Sarah and Son" will wish her much happiness in her new life.

The powerful dramatic ability of Ruth Chatterton displayed so successfully in "Charming Sinners," "The Laughing Lady" and "Madame X" will be again brought forward for the delectation of her numerous admirers when Empress Theatre shows her newest film, "Sarah and Son" for two days, Monday and Tuesday.

"Sarah and Son" is the story of an impoverished actress who is forced to give up her baby boy that she might work and live. On becoming famous she tries to retrieve the lad but encounters intrigue upon the part of the wealthy couple who have adopted her child. The manner in which she accomplishes her courageous purpose forms the climax of the picture. It is tense and breath-taking—but it is one which leaves an audience in a happy glow of good spirits.

Fredric March is cast opposite Miss Chatterton. He plays the part of the young lawyer who falls in love with her and tries to help her retrieve her young son, played by Philippe de Lacy. There is an abundance of splendid character-portrayal in the picture.

Timothy Shea wrote the original novel upon which the screen story is based. Zoe Akins, renowned American woman poet and playwright, wrote the adaptation from the novel.

DELIGHTFUL IRENE BORDONI, STAR OF STAGE, NOW TRIUMPHS AS SCREEN PLAYER IN "PARIS"—GAY COMEDY DRAMA IS BRILLIANTLY ACTED BY MISS BORDONI, JACK BUCHANAN AND OTHERS. COLOR SCENES—FRI.—SAT.—

She is certainly one actress—and what an actress! Bordon is refreshingly different. From her intriguing French accent to her twinkling toes she spells a novel screen personality. She has brought "Paris," her New York stage success, with all its original charm to the First National-Vitaphone screen.

The star sings and dances in some very spectacular theatre sequences, although the picture is mostly a comedy-drama.

Some of the outstanding scenes of "Paris" are made in Technicolor—the wonderful new process which has finally perfected the art of photography in natural colors. We see a famous Parisian music-hall during the performance of one of those glittering revues for which the City of Light is so famous. These color effects are not only startlingly realistic—they are utterly beautiful. And in the midst of this chromatic revelation is Bordon!—Bordon! the laughing, the singing, the scintillating! Bordon! at her most inimitable! She assumes the role of a French actress—a darling of Paris, who falls in love with a Newton Center (Mass.) youth because she believes he has a nice, sweet mother. Her partner on the stage is also in love with her, but she never takes him seriously, because he can't keep a straight face even when proposing.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MISS M. GREENWOOD

A number of the members of the Royal Purple Lodge, Macleod, paid a surprise visit to the home of Mrs. E. Greenwood on Tuesday evening. The visit was arranged in honor of Miss Marjory Greenwood, who has been Conductor of the lodge, and who is leaving next week to attend the Normal School at Calgary, having made a splendid record at the recent Departmental Grade XII examinations.

A jolly evening was spent in playing bridge, four tables taking part. The successful prize winners were Mrs. Jim Smith, first; and Mrs. Jack McGregor, consolation.

After delicious refreshments were served. Past Hon. Royal Lady Ina Baker presented Miss Greenwood with a Jewel Bracelet, and in a neat little speech expressed the regret of the members at the loss the lodge would sustain in the departure of their conductor. At the same time she congratulated Miss Greenwood on her successful career through High School, and wished her continued success through Normal and in the profession she has chosen. Miss Greenwood feelingly thanked the members for the gift and said she hoped she would often be able to attend meetings of the lodge.

TIMES CHANGE HUMANS DON'T

Every so often we find a news story in which a woman's revenge is given as the reason for a man's death. In a certain mid-western state, so the newest story of love and conflict goes, a girl's wish for revenge is now being blamed for the death of two men.

The natural reaction to true murder yarns is a reflection as to how much worse Eve's daughters are today than they used to be.

If we could reflect carefully, we would realize that they aren't the least bit more responsible for death and tragedy than their predecessors. There was Helen of Troy, for instance. Her elopement with Paris, the son of King Priam, sent the of the Spartan navy over to Troy to get her back. Before the war ended several other countries brought their boats close to the shore and joined in the battle. Before Helen finally was recovered a good many thousands of men were killed.

Not only mythology, but history as well, is filled with cases in which a woman's wiles upset nations and brought death to many.

The world is very much better today than it used to be. This is seen in the very action of the public conscience, which condemns a woman today for the same deeds for which it lauded her in olden times when she committed them a thousand or even one or two hundred years ago.

WORK FOR EVERY CANADIAN

The "Buy-in-Canada" campaign has swept through the nation.

What is the purpose of it? What good will it do? How soon will it do it, if any? Why bother with it?

These are questions the average shopper may ask. Fair enough. And here is the answer:

Its purpose is to provide work, with pay, for every Canadian. It will do just that. It will, if applied by Canadians generally, show its effect almost immediately.

Put it this way: For example, suppose we spend only ten cents a day more per capita on Canadian goods. That is not much. But there are 10,000,000 Canadians. Then this ten cents a day would make a million dollars. In a year it would make $365,000,000.

Now, suppose labor forms 40 per cent of the cost of the goods—and that is a safe estimate. Forty per cent of $365,000,000 is $146,000,000.

That $146,000,000 would provide 146,000 men with year-round jobs at $1000 a year.

For two words—"Where From?"—and ten cents a day. Canadian buyers can do that. They can provide jobs for 146,000 more earners.

Moreover, that $365,000,000 immediately becomes a vast circulating and accumulative fund that helps support and expand its own market.

You exclaim: "If everybody would only do this!"

They WILL do it, if they are educated, coached and shown the advantages of a "Buy-Canadian-Goods" insistence. And the one to take the lead in that educating and coaching is the Dominion Government.

CUSTOM

A cartoon we saw recently was in two panels. In the top panel two prim ladies gazed blandly at half a dozen men in bathing suits on a beach.

In the lower panel the same two ladies were shocked, passing a house, they glimpsed a man in summer underwear, shaving.

What is called morality is the most curious thing in the world. It depends not on logic or fact, but purely on human whims, for its strength.

A few years ago, a woman could not smoke anywhere and stay "moral."

Today, she may smoke at home, in a restaurant, or in her sedan—and no one objects. But if she walks down a street smoking—that's different. Why—no one knows, and no one can offer a logical explanation.

Too, a woman may smoke a cigarette and be regarded as normal. If she smokes a pipe or a cigar, ideas begin to be entertained about her. Unreasonable? Sure—but there it is.

In North America, uncovering the legs is immoral—or used to be.

In other nations, uncovering the face is "wrong." In still others, it is almost criminal to expose parts of the body that may be seen on every street any hour of the day.

The whole thing, of course, is senseless—but it is useless to protest against it; or to defy it. Custom binds us with chains stronger than law, stronger than logic.

MAYBE FEWER WOMEN SHOULD WORK

Millions of people will be interested in the action of a Kansas City bank, which is going to fire all its married women workers and return to a pre-war basis of employment. The biggest factor in the unemployment situation is the ousting of hundreds of thousands of men and their replacement by women, many of whom are married.

No one, of course, wishes to deny work to a woman who needs it, either to support herself or others.

But there is reasonable ground for objecting, especially in hard times, to the selfish action of married women, who do not need the money, but who work to obtain extra dollars for self-adornment or pleasure.

Apart from the economic result, the effect of this practice on the home should be considered. A home isn't a home if both husband and wife are away from it all day, every day.

There are jobs that women can do better than men—and women should have them. There are jobs men can do better than women and, in justice, men should be given these jobs.

It is doubtful if women will consent to be relegated to the position in which they were 25 years ago, when a working girl was a rarity. But some sort of balance should be struck, for the good of the nation.

ANOTHER MILESTONE

About this time of the year, each year, the film industry opens a "greater movie season." The season lasts until next year, at the same time.

Progress of the movies is continuous; each new season is a milestone.

There are good films and so-so films and bad films—but the average of entertainment and educational value is constantly rising.

It is easy to sneer at the films, or to damn them as "a bad influence." But it is not so easy to explain away the fact that they form North America's staple entertainment, with an appeal greater than any other form of amusement.

Looked at from any angle, the influence of the movies is, on the whole, a good, healthful one. You remember the good films and forget the bad ones.

HELPING THE FARMER

The Publications Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is the medium through which the results of scientific research and experiment in agriculture are made available to the farmers and public of Canada. The principal media through which this information is disseminated takes the form of bulletins, pamphlets, circulars and reports. These are available to the public on application to the Branch, free of charge. All that is necessary is for anyone interested to write the Branch for the information desired.

During the last fiscal year a total of 4,442,958 publications of various sorts were distributed. These included the popular "Seasonable Hints" which is prepared by experts in the respective fields of operation. This bulletin contains much of interest to everyone concerned in agriculture. "Hints" includes a list of the more recent publications as a guide in selection.

There are at the present time over 300 individual publications available for distribution.

It should also be of interest to note that bulletins and pamphlets on agricultural topics to the number of 767,317 were issued during the fiscal year just closed; an average of 63,000 a month, 16,000 a week, or 2666 a day.

These publications all contain useful authoritative information on farm problems and in the range of publications available is something relating to almost any farm problem which might conceivably arise.

SOWING VEGETABLES IN THE FALL

Vegetables are regarded as a necessity. Everybody likes them. They are demanded all year. Fresh vegetables are in greatest demand. Any convenient method which will provide quality vegetables earlier than the usual way will be universally welcome. This can be accomplished by sowing certain vegetable seeds in the fall.

This procedure can be used in the village, city or farm garden. Most of our amateur or home vegetable gardens have space at a premium. Less area is required for fall sown vegetables. Consequently the idea should meet with popular approval from that standpoint. Of course all vegetable seeds cannot be sown in the fall and it is usually planned to seed only a small portion this way. It has been found that a general assortment of staple vegetables can be grown in this way. These include beets, cabbages, carrots, lettuce, onions, parsnips, spinach, radishes and turnips. Northern or home grown seed must be used in every case.

Prairie winters and springs vary so widely that certain vegetables will respond accordingly each spring. Spinach usually takes a commanding lead for providing fresh greens. Lettuce is usually well ahead of spring sowings. In some years cabbage progresses at an alarming rate.

Fall sowing requires some explanation. Seeding should be done late enough so that no growth takes place until the next spring. Experience shows that just when freeze-up starts is the best time. The ideal method is to break the light frozen crust on the soil surface at this time and seed as usual. One-third less distance between the rows than spring seeding can be used. Another cultural practice used in this connection is to gently stir the soil surface as soon as the land is workable in the spring. The aeration and warmth provided in this way speeds up the growth.

Moisture deficiency is our greatest single factor affecting vegetable production on the prairies. Fall sown vegetables can make use of soil moisture provided by melted snow. Such an advantage provides more rapid growth with accompanying high quality.

Beginning with the fall of 1922, staple vegetable seeds have been sown at the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, just before freeze-up and the same vegetables were sown the following spring for comparison. Records have been kept concerning uniformity of stand, dates ready for use, yield and quality. For the most part the germination has not been as uniform in the case of all seeding, which has meant a slightly lighter yield. Fall sown vegetables are invariably earlier and the quality is equal to or better than spring seedings. Vegetables found satisfactory for fall sowing have already been mentioned. Covering the seven year period, fall sown vegetables could not be considered successful on two occasions.

An early opening of spring followed by severe freezing weather is usually disastrous for fall sown vegetables, but since most seasons are favourable, it is an easy method of having home grown vegetables of good quality at an earlier date than is possible by the usual spring outdoor seeding.

In some parts of the prairie provinces fall seeding has not been found satisfactory. One should try it on a small scale at first to determine if results are good where you live.

CENTER FOR ALPINE CLIMBING

ALPINISTS - Jasper National Park

Into a country where there are many important peaks still unexplored and even unnamed, will come Alpinists from all over the world for the 1930 annual camp of the Alpine Club of Canada, July 25th to August 10th, in Jasper National Park. Alpine members of the medical profession of England, will be among those at this year's camp.

In this vast mountain kingdom, climbers will try their skill in the Maligne Lake region, where such peaks as Mt. Samson, Mt. Charlton, Mt. Unwin, Mt. Warren, Mt. Mary Vaux, Mt. Maligne, and Mt. Brewster—ranging from ten to eleven thousand feet in height, offer most interesting climbing problems.

It is perhaps the splendid prodigality, the massing of effects that distinguishes this region from all others. In the Rockies the fully of comparisons, where beauty is concerned, is always obvious. There are a score of lakes, each different, which, once seen, hold their place in the heart forever. Yet this stands out among them all. Where many of the others are chamber music, Maligne is the great orchestra. The composition forms one picture but into it has gone enough beauty to make a dozen regions famous.

The Maligne Valley is one of the most beautiful in the world. It is not only on account of its remarkable canyon, but because of its two beautiful lakes—Maligne and Maligne.

The famous canyon of the Maligne River is an interesting example of what nature can do in the way of natural carving with uncounted aeons of working and rushing water as her tool. Its great depth, its narrowness—in places it is scarcely more than a slit between dark walls of rock—and the great size of the pot holes, worn by the water in the course of ages, all make it of extreme interest to the geologist and nature lover and Alpinist.

One of the very interesting features of this canyon is the recurrence at many places throughout its length of subterranean streams. It is believed that these streams form part of the submerged waters of Maligne Lake. Their combined waters so increase the flow of the river that by the time it reaches the mouth of the canyon its volume is about four times greater than above the gorge.

A NEW IDEA

Officials of the Dominion Livestock Branch are watching with interest the progress of the new system of marketing meat, known as the "package meat" or "rapid freezing" method. It has already been successfully introduced in the larger retail distribution centres in the United States, and bids fair to revolutionize meat retailing methods in the British Market. By the new process cuts of beef, mutton, lamb, pork and veal are dressed at the packing plant, packed in individual cellophane wrappers and subjected to rapid freezing at very low temperatures. It is found that by "snap" freezing only tiny ice crystals are formed in the flesh of the meat, preserving all its fine qualities quite unimpaired. The new system provides a serious threat to the future of that old familiar institution, the butcher shop.

THE BUG DETECTIVES

Neither Scotland Yard nor the equally famous Burns Agency in the United States can boast more able detectives than the Entomologists and Botanists of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, whose lives and energies, not without risk to personal welfare, are devoted to the protection of sources of food supply. They are continually on the alert to check the invasions of crop thieves in the form of insects, bugs and germs of countless species. Their work involves the solution of mysteries quite as thrilling, and even more important to the welfare of the nation, as that of their police contemporaries. Instead of bullets and guns these "bug" detectives deal with larvae, spores and germs, infinitely more intricate and harder to deal with. And their work too, is never done; there is always some new problem of field or laboratory study just around the corner.

FIX SOYBEAN VALUE

The commercial demand for soybean oil or meal from time to time will fix the value of the various varieties suited to cultivation in Canada is the observation of the Chemist of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The correlation between "oil" of fat content and protein he finds is remarkably consistent; the varieties being high in "fat" being relatively lower in "protein," and vice versa. This becomes a matter of importance in view of the fact that there are now some twenty-four varieties of soybean which have been proven suitable for cultivation as a commercial crop in Canada. The commercial value of the soybean arises from the oil obtained by expression, and the use of the residue of the bean, which is rich in protein, in the form of meal or cake as a live-stock food. Soybean oil is used in fish canning, paint and soap manufacture; and the soybean is also an important constituent in many of the popular patent foods now appearing on the market—in addition, as a legume and forage crop it ranks among the best.

THE R-100 BUYS THE BEST

"Everything counts with us, we have room for nothing but the best" was the comment of the Purchasing Officer of the big British Dirigible R-100 when discussing with Beef Grading officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture the question of meat supplies for the return trip to Cardington. He expressed immediate appreciation of the opportunity in Canada to buy the best beef by government brand with its guarantee of quality. When her visit to Canada ended and R-100 cast off her lines for the flight home she carried on board a supply of choice "Red Brand" individual steaks sufficient for two meals for all on board. The government brand removes the element of guesswork as to quality entirely from the purchase of beef throughout Canada, and every housewife, by insisting on being supplied with Red or Blue brand beef can buy the best of beef with the same assurance of quality as did the Purchasing Officer of R-100.

EXPORTS CATTLE TO BRITAIN

Renewal of efforts to establish an export trade for Canadian cattle to Britain is seen in the shipment of 64 head of store cattle which left the Montreal Stockyards of the Canadian National Railways last Thursday bound for England via the Manchester Line. This is the first shipment of its kind in three years. "The importance of the effort to establish a trade with Britain lies in the fact that, with prices generally low in Canada at present, and with little possibility of further trade with the United States due to the tariff, there is a surplus of cattle for market, and any export trade which could be developed would relieve the situation in the Dominion to the considerable extent, and would be a large factor in at least stabilizing the market at its present level, and prevent its going much lower, which would be rather disastrous for the Canadian cattlemen," a prominent cattleman said.

WHY GET STUNG

"Why get stung" is the pertinent observation of C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist, discussing methods for the removal of honey from the hive. The bee does not work by the clock, nor does it cease work when its own food requirement is filled, and a good colony of bees will often store the double amount of honey required for its own use. This surplus is the reward of the beekeeper—providing he has the nerve to take it. Bees, as a rule, have the unpleasant habit of disputing the ownership of this surplus, and as the Dominion Apiarist puts it, "their method of arguing the question is not only pointed, but painful to the person of the opposition." The old familiar method of settling the dispute has been to first destroy the bees with sulphur fumes and then take all the honey in peace, but, like killing the goose that laid the golden egg, it destroyed much valuable property. A newer method is by the use of the "bee escape" to take the honey without the bees knowing anything about it, and without getting stung. Just how this is done is described in Departmental Bulletin No. 33 issued by the Publications Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

MARKETING POULTRY

"The poultry market during the balance of the year is going to be a trying one, perhaps the most difficult through which the industry has passed in recent years" observe experts of the Poultry Market Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Not only are storage stocks heavy and production fully up to normal, but the market in which dressed poultry can be sold to advantage is materially restricted this year through the new United States tariff barrier. Producers are urged to pay particular attention to the proper fitting of poultry for market, and to the development of the type the consumer wants. Poultry should never be marketed without first having been properly finished through special feeding, and young stock should never be put into finishing pens until fully grown and properly matured.

MOST POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVE IN WORLD

The photographs show two views of the new 2,200 H.P., oil-electric locomotive designed by motive power engineers of the Canadian National Railways and now placed in service. The locomotive weighs 650,000 pounds and is designed to operate fast passenger and freight service where speed and power are required. Simplicity of operation and economy are features of this new monarch of the rails which marks such an evolution in the history of transportation that engineers believe it will prove to be the successor of the steam locomotive. It is capable of carrying longer trains for greater distances with less refueling than any type of locomotive now in use. The power developed by the oil engine is converted into electrical energy by the generator and then transmitted to the traction motors geared to the driving axles. In the cab window of the lower photograph is seen C. E. Brooks, Chief of Motive Power of the Canadian National Railways, who is largely responsible for this new locomotive.

MCCORMICK-DEERING NEWS
"Good equipment makes a good farmer better"

FARMALL PRICE REDUCED!

We have just received a big piece of power farming news—the McCormick-Deering FARMALL price has been cut $50, and we are at once passing the information on to our customers. The Harvester Company's announcement says:

"We are glad to be able to make a reduction in the FARMALL tractor price at this time because right now the farmer is seriously in need of anything that will help him to cut down his costs of crop production."

"Due to manufacturing economies and anticipated reductions in material costs, we were able to reduce prices on the McCormick-Deering implement lines, effective for the present season."

"Recently, by the same process, we lowered the price on the 10-20 McCormick-Deering tractor $10, and cut the 15-30 tractor price $75."

"Now, to complete our program of reductions, we announce a $50 cut in the price of the FARMALL."

"These price reductions, made during recent months, mean a saving to farmers of millions of dollars."

"As the original all-purpose tractor the McCormick-Deering FARMALL has won tremendous popularity. More than 100,000 FARMALLS have been built. Already this tractor has created a real revolution in farming. It is the best investment a farmer can make."

"The new price is the lowest ever placed on the FARMALL."

You have probably seen the FARMALL Tractor at work. If not, we will demonstrate it at any time, on any job. The FARMALL replaces 6 to 10 horses and 2 to 3 men. It plows 7 to 9 acres a day... double disks 18 to 25 acres... drills up to 45 acres... plants 24 to 46 acres... cultivates 33 to 50 acres of corn and summer fallows 50 to 65 acres. It handles every farm power job, including row-crop operations. Put the best tractor power to work now—at the new FARMALL price!

If it isn't a McCormick-Deering it isn't a FARMALL

WINTERING OF DAIRY HEIFERS

The usefulness of the dairy heifer depends upon proper development during the growing period. In order to insure this, the following factors must be considered: breeding, feeding, housing, and care and management. In order to produce the desired results on reaching maturity the heifer must be provided with a well balanced ration which will promote the normal development of all the vital organs.

At the Dominion Experimental Station, Rosthern, Sask., different methods of housing dairy heifers six months to two years old have been practised. Five heifers born in the months of March and April 1929 were wintered in corrals where they were protected from the cold winds and had access to dry, comfortable beds. They were fed a ration consisting of 10 pounds of slough grass hay, 15 to 20 pounds of turnips, and 2 or 3 pounds of meal. The meal mixture consisted of 2 parts of oat chop, 1 part bran, and 1 part barley chop. Besides this they had access to oat straw. The five heifers weighed an average of 591 pounds on Dec. 15 and on April 1 they weighed an average of 730 pounds, showing an average daily gain of 1.3 pounds per animal per
